

CHILDREN WITH LANGUAGE AND LEARNING DISABILITIES OFTEN HAVE A HEARING LOSS.

If you know a child who is having difficulties in speech and language or struggling in school, please have his/her hearing checked. Audiologists are trained professionals who can diagnose and treat hearing impairments that can cause children and adults to have difficulties with learning. Early intervention makes a difference as learning disabilities can have life-long effects.

If you or a loved one is experiencing learning or hearing difficulties, visit bcaslpa.ca to find out more about speech-language pathology and audiology services.