

... YOU KNOW? ...

HEARING LOSS

Is the fastest growing chronic condition facing Canadians today?

According to Statistics Canada, more than one million adults across the country reported having a hearing-related disability. Speech-language pathologists (SLPs) can help improve the speech of persons with hearing impairment and support their communication skills.

For more information, or to find a speech-language pathologist near you, visit www.bcaslpa.ca

